About NAGARA

Founded in 1984 and based in Washington, DC, NAGARA is the only organization in America focused solely on supporting and championing the government archives and records administration profession. The Association is dedicated to improving government records and information management programs, and the professional development of government records administrators and archivists. With an eye towards serving professionals at all levels of government (local, state, federal, AND those serving in public institutions of higher learning) NAGARA really does offer something for everybody.
